AQAR 2012—13

Vision

We the Crossians believe in sculpting the outside, in the light of that which is within. We strive towards a healthy and harmonious society envisioned by our foundress mother Claudine Echernier – an unlettered shepherdess who in her understanding and pure awareness established a direct contact with life. In tune with God's self emptying love (Kenosis) which is co-extensive with life, we groom our children to live in tune with existence, to build their homes on the bedrock of truth, to grow in universal consciousness, to witness things with an all comprehensive intelligence, to work with unbounded sensitivity, to act with a spirit of inquiry and to have a deeper perception of the unity of all knowledge, of life and love.

Mission & Goal

It is only in this state that they would be able to take a stand in the struggles of the disadvantaged and the marginalized. Higher education at our institution aims at tuning the heartbeats of our students with the pulse beats of the entire universe. They learn to enhance life, to create something new and beautiful, and to take their rightful place and responsibility in society.

Objectives

By tracing the underlying inner principle of unity of all knowledge, we offer roadmaps to our students in their journey towards building a new harmonious and sustainable society.

The two major Christian principles of seeing the kingdom of God within oneself, and being the light of the world have become our inspiration for social, ecological, psychological and economic regeneration. Our students move from character to consciousness, from competence to commitment and from sympathy to compassion. The all-round formation helps them transcend barriers with a cosmic view. Their knowledge expands to understanding. They learn to relate their knowledge to totality in every sphere – physical, mental, intellectual, supra-mental, personal and social.

The dip in research publications and other student centric activities, during the preparations for the NAAC peer team visit picked up in the even semester. The encouraging CGPA of 3.34 awarded by the National assessment and Accreditation Council in the third cycle of accreditation on January 5th has given us the courage and confidence to move beyond the defined parameters. We are also aware of our shortcomings and we are working on the recommendations made by the NAAC peer team. Our students have started working on internships and strategic projects with academicians of international repute to enhance their employability skills. A collaborate environment has been created in the campus sparking off an interest in multi disciplinary research. Education in our institution is a transformational power! Today if we have strated moving the clouds, tomorrow it may be the mountains!
